Handmade War Machine Cosplay

Superhero hype forum member Masterle247, has started production of an stunningly realistic War Machine costume to coincide with release of Iron Man 2 (which if you haven't seen the trailer has been provided for your viewing pleasure after the break.) Consisting of surgically cut pieces of high impact urethane, the suit is held together by over 600 rivets and features wrist rockets, lasers, a minigun, an arc reactor, repulsor gauntlets, light-up eyes, and even an opening and closing faceplate.
